Located one hour east (70km) of Vancouver, Abbotsford borders Mission to the north, Langley to the west, Chilliwack to the east, and Washington State to the south. This sprawling rural “city in the country” is set against stunning views of B.C.’s Coast Mountains and Washington’s Mount Baker. Abbotsford’s cost of living is substantially lower than in Greater Vancouver.

The successful candidate will have completed a year of added competency program in palliative medicine, will have acquired the Certificate of Added Competence (CAC) through the College of Family Physicians of Canada, or have a minimum of four (4) years of palliative care experience and is eligible for the CAC through the pending practice eligibility route. Eligibility for medical licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of British Columbia is required, and preference will be given to candidates certified by the College of Family Physicians of Canada or the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

Remuneration is by service/sessional contract at a rate commensurate with skills and experience.
